

The Del Mar Loop Flowering Artists Festival

The Del Mar Loop Flowering Artists Festival Event is bringing art to life in the Loop! This one-day festival pairs talented local artists with businesses, transforming storefronts into pop-up galleries and vibrant marketplaces. Stroll through the district, meet artists, and discover incredible original artworks available for purchase

-Right inside your favorite shops

-Booths in the Tivoli Parking lot

This tradition began over a year ago, when the local art gallery Artisans In the Loop thought to promote emerging artists in the heart of University City Delmar, bringing creative citizens of St. Louis back to University City streets. They saw the need for a more cohesive representation of the amazing artists, both emerging and professional, in a non-traditional art exhibition throughout the store fronts of Delmar Loop.

Today Budding Artist Reveal is organized by the same gallery that founded it, and special business district of Delmar Loop to grow community outreach, creating one of a kind unforgettable event.
